

No Motive Revealed In Church Kitchen Murder At Roanoke

High School Athlete, 16,
Held As Suspect

Roanoke, Va., May 12. (AP)—Police today sought some motive for the slaying of Dana Marie Wedder, pretty high school girl, as they sought to build a case against 16-year-old Lee Scott.

Authorities have said the youth has admitted being at the church where the girl was slain Sunday night. He has been charged with the murder, but no date for the preliminary hearing has been set.

Dana Marie was buried yesterday in rolling Evergreen cemetery near Raleigh Court Methodist church. Many hundreds overflowed the church and stood outside yesterday afternoon while the Rev. William P. Watkins read a simple and traditional funeral service for the young girl. The cemetery lot was more than covered with flowers.

Jefferson high school, the only senior high school in this mountain-banked city of some 80,000, closed for the funeral yesterday afternoon. The popular 16-year-old Dana Marie was chairman of a school dance committee. Hundreds of her school mates came to the funeral.

Died Of Suffocation

Dana died of suffocation, the coroner has said. Her body was found early Monday morning in a pool of blood in the kitchen of Christ Episcopal church by the janitor. Police began an intensive search for her assailant.

Scott first became a suspect Tuesday. Reports came to police that his face was scratched. This was a clue they had been looking for. Dana Marie's broken finger nails were part of the mute evidence of a desperate struggle in the church kitchen.

The youth, an Eagle Scout and singer in the Christ Episcopal church choir, was taken from classes at Jefferson high school and questioned from 2 p. m. to 9:15 p. m. Tuesday. He was then formally charged with murder.

Police have disclosed that Scott has made fragmentary admissions about his whereabouts and activities Sunday night, but he has signed no confession.

Boy's Story Hazy

Authorities said he directed them to a sack from a coffee urn in the church kitchen which they say could have been used to strangle the girl. A broken pop bottle was found in the sack, and police say this could have been used to club her. Another broken pop bottle was on the church floor.

Scott told police that he remembered going to the church Sunday night. But his account of the evening was hazy and fragmentary. He said he knew that he did not have an appointment to meet Dana Marie.

Dana Marie went to Christ Episcopal church Sunday night to join a group of young people unaware that the church group that Sunday had gone on a picnic.

Negro Fliers Will Not Be Segregated In U. S. Air Force

Washington, May 12. (AP)—Negro personnel will be distributed throughout the air force instead of serving in special units, under a new policy approved by Secretary of Defense Johnson.

Under the new air force policy Negroes will be assigned on the basis of individual capacity. Some separate Negro units will continue in existence.

The air force now has 21,026 Negro servicemen, 316 of them officers, five warrant officers and the rest enlisted men. The total is seven per cent of air force strength.

SLEEP JARRED

Detroit (AP)—Homeowners around the Briggs Manufacturing Co. plant here are seeking a court order that would make the firm ease the vibration caused by its big body presses. Residents say it has cracked walls and walks, and interferes with their sleep.

Berlin Whoops It Up As Blockade Vanishes

IT'S CLEANUP TIME IN ESCANABA—

An unsightly pile of refuse and junk, which would be welcomed by rats, flies and the like, is hauled away by city of Escanaba cleanup crews. This of course would be done regularly each year, cleanup campaign or no, but the city is working with local residents and business places to make the most of the first post war city-wide cleanup campaign. In addition, city owned buildings, plants, and grounds are getting a going-over to make them more attractive and clean.

Legislators Stand Pat On Budget Cut

Operating Costs Trimmed
$22,000,000 In Lansing

Lansing, May 12. (AP)—Republican legislative majorities have agreed to stick by their appropriation committee's decisions to trim state operating costs $22,000,000 next year.

The decision to "hold the line" with the committees was cast at G. O. P. House and Senate caucuses yesterday—and the question now was whether the votes to uphold the committees would be there when appropriation bills reach the floor of the legislature.

Governor Williams contends the state next year will wind up with an "absolute deficit" of $32,000,000 to $51,000,000 and an operating deficit of $63,000,000.

Ignoring Williams theories, the Senate taxation committee has killed the governor's four per cent corporation income tax bill, which he has said would produce the $60,000,000 necessary to balance the budget.

Speaker of the House Victor A. Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie) apparently summed up the G. O. P. philosophy when he said "the public will be told at the end of the fiscal year next June 30 that we have a surplus of about $14,000,000. How can we vote new taxes in the face of that? We all know we are going to end up the next fiscal year with a deficit before the people will believe us and accept any new taxes. We must have an actual deficit."

Playmates Lined Up For Rifle Bullet By Memphis Boy, 9

Memphis, Tenn., May 12. (AP)—A nine-year-old boy lined three young companions against a bedroom wall yesterday and took a shot at them with a rifle.

One of the three was wounded in the ear. Sheriff's deputies said John Harold Newman fired the shot from a combination "over and under" gun—a 410 gauge shotgun—22 caliber rifle.

The deputies, Jimmy Cox and Roy McElroy, said only the rifle section of the combination gun was fired.

They said the shooting occurred in the Newman home while John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Newman, were at work. The rifle slug drilled two holes in the left ear of Jimmie Lee Patton, 8. Uninjured were Jimmie's five-year-old brother Hiner, and a playmate, Carroll Doherty, 4. Jimmie's injury was not considered serious.

Red Cherry Crop Unhurt by Frost

Traverse City, Mich., May 12. (AP)—Cherry orchards in the Grand Traverse area which produce the bulk of the nation's red cherry crop may have weathered Tuesday night's frost without damage, growers reported today. Rainfall yesterday afternoon and forecasts of warmer weather prompted belief the orchards, now in a particularly vulnerable stage, would escape unscathed. It may be a week, however, growers said, before possible damage is evident.

Armed Forces Plan Rocket Test Range Across Caribbean

By ELTON C. FAY

Washington, May 12. (AP)—The armed forces already are beginning preliminary work on the rocket testing range over across the Caribbean.

Legislation authorizing construction of the long range proving ground for guided missiles and providing $75,000,000 to get it under way was signed yesterday by President Truman.

Meanwhile, negotiations are proceeding with Britain for building technical observation stations in the Bahamas, along the route of the rockets.

A small air force detachment of men has been sent to the Banana River Air Base, on the east coast of Florida, the spot picked for the proving ground's launch site. Another army detachment will move into the station within a few months, with navy men following.

While the rocket testing range will be under administration of the air force, the navy and army will share its use and help provide personnel.

The air force said that, with the $75,000,000 provided by Congress, the first 500 miles of the range could be in operation by July 1, 1951. However, it may be possible to begin firing smaller missiles even before that date.

Aimed generally in a southeasterly direction, the range can be extended to 5,000 miles distance if that range is needed as development of missiles progresses. (The range of the V-2 type rockets now being used experimentally is about 250 miles.)

The air force estimates that the possible total cost of a range several thousand miles long might be about $200,000,000.

Stowaway Believed Missing Red, Eisler

Alien Communist Turns
Up On Polish Liner

Washington, May 12. (AP)—Immigration Commissioner Watson Miller said today a stowaway aboard a Polish ship at sea has been "positively" identified as Gearhart Eisler, missing alien Communist.

The 53-year-old Eisler, who is facing two possible jail sentences in this country, disappeared last week from his home in New York. He was free on $23,000 bail.

The liner Batory, which sailed from New York six days ago, later radioed that a German stowaway aboard identified himself as Eisler.

The ship, owned by Gdynia-American Shipping Lines, Ltd., is due at Southampton, England, on Saturday.

Miller told reporters "We have a positive identification." Miller said the stowaway "gave his birth date and place and they correspond to our records of the birth date and place of Eisler."

Eisler, who also was awaiting deportation proceedings, has been trying to get out of the country for a long time. Neighbors reported they had not seen him around his New York apartment since late last week.

City Foes Demand Recall Of Mayor At Grand Rapids

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 12. (AP)—A recall movement against Mayor George W. Welsh was hinted here today.

A proposal to set up a committee for a recall campaign will be offered tonight at a mass meeting, according to Spokesman Joseph Zandstra.

The downtown open air meeting, Zandstra said, has been called to protest the firing of city manager Frank H. Goebel.

He indicated too that the recall of city commissioner Lester Wagemaker, one of Welsh's supporters, also will be sought.

Blackjackers Beat Six At Chattanooga

Hooded Band Attacks
Men and Boys At Church

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 12. (AP)—Police were investigating today the reported blackjacking of six men and boys at a church near here by a group of robed and hooded men.

The white victims, three of them teen-agers, told Sheriff Frank Burns they were beaten at a church in Dolly Pond, 25 miles from here, Saturday night. They said their attackers wore Ku Klux Klan hoods and robes.

The six identified themselves as Ed Allison, 50, his son, L. E. Allison, 22, and Charles Beaver, 40, all sawmill workers; Tom Ferguson, 13, his brother, Leonard, 14, and Henry Blair, 18.

Seven violent floggings and whippings by masked and hooded men have reported since February in the mountain area surrounding Chattanooga.

Only two days ago a sheriff, three deputies and another man were indicted by a grand jury for the flogging of seven Chattanooga Negroes at Hooker, Ga., about 20 miles south of here.

The latest victims said they had just arrived at the Little Holiness church and services had begun when the masked men appeared.

The hooded intruders walked around the church twice, firing shots into the air, and then marched into the building. They ordered Blair, the Ferguson brothers and several younger boys to come outside. Then they went to work with the blackjacks.

Russia And Western Allies Erase Major Cold War Sore Spot

Government Of German
Capital Still Split

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Berlin, May 12. (AP)—The Russians pulled up their German iron curtain today, ending their 327-day-old Berlin blockade, major sore spot of the cold war.

Ground traffic flowed on through the day, by rail and by highway, pouring supplies and passengers into the long-besieged old capital city from the west for the first time in nearly 11 months.

The blockade-lifting had all the fanfare of a Hollywood movie premiere, and the people, convinced that at least this phase of the cold war was ended, whooped it up in the flag-decked city.

The Russian and western allied military outdid each other in courtesy as the barricades went down ending the blockade, and the allied counter-blockade. There was a general display of good will and smiling headiness to cut red tape.

Powers Cautious

But the western allies were taking nothing for granted. Their air-lift, which had made the blockade a useless Soviet weapon by flying in the food, fuel and raw materials needed by west Berlin's 2,000,000 residents, continued flying. It is to continue at least 30 days, building a stockpile of supplies and giving a chance to really sound out Russian intentions. Today's flights kept supplies coming in at about a 500-ton per hour level.

Allied military trains, followed by food and fuel trains, were the first into Berlin after the barriers went down one minute after midnight.

William L. Kennedy Dies In Miami, Fla.

Heart Ailment Fatal To Escanaba Insurance Man

William L. Kennedy, 525 South 11th street, district manager of Employers Mutual Liability Insurance Co. and prominently known business and civic leader in Escanaba, died at 11:50 today in Miami, Florida.

Mr. Kennedy had been suffering from a heart ailment for the past several months. He was hospitalized here for some time and following his recovery went with Mrs. Kennedy to Florida for the winter months.

He was stricken with a second attack which resulted in his death while in the south.

Mr. Kennedy was a former lumber broker but in recent years had been active in the insurance business. He was a past president of the Lions club, a member of the Elks lodge, Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, and was a leading member of the Escanaba Golf club for many years.

Surviving are his wife, two sons and two daughters, Mrs. John Gould, the former Jane Kennedy, Grand Rapids, Mrs. Stephen A. Bergman, formerly Mary Alice Kennedy, Kansas City, William, Atlanta, Ga., and James at University of Michigan.

No arrangements for the services have been made.

Talent Agents Sue Amos 'N' Andy For $300,000 Radio Cut

Los Angeles, May 12. (AP)—Amos 'N' Andy have been sued for $300,000.

The William Morris Talent Agency, which filed the action yesterday, claims it lost a weekly commission of $11,000 after negotiating a contract for the radio comedians with Lever Bros. company.

The suit alleges Amos 'N' Andy sold their program to the Columbia Broadcasting System for $2,000,000 last summer and tried to end commission payments to the agency, contending the Lever Bros. contract was terminated.

But, the suit asserts, Lever Bros. continued as show sponsors.

Winter Pajamas Issued To WAC

Washington, May 12. (AP)—Four-star generals took time out today to issue this undercover order:

"Effective immediately, issue of two pairs of pajamas, women's, summer, and two pairs of pajamas, winter, is authorized to enlisted women of the WAC and WAF until stocks are exhausted."

But Generals Omar N. Bradley and Hoyt C. Vandenberg, who approved this directive, did not say what the army and air force women are to do with those winter pajamas this summer.

Ban On Bottle Clubs Approved And Sent To Gov. Williams

Lansing, May 12. (AP)—A bill outlawing bottle clubs was on Governor Williams' desk today for his approval or rejection.

On a shaky 51-33 vote, the House passed a Senate amendment making it illegal to operate unlicensed establishments where customers may bring their own liquor and be charged a fee for service.

The Senate had tacked the amendment on a bill providing that local referenda on the sale of liquor may be held only at state elections.

Rep. Howard R. Carroll (R-Mt. Clemens) argued against the amendment, charging that the language was so broad it would forbid service clubs and like organizations to hold outings at country clubs and other non-licensed establishments when they bring their own liquor.

Members of the House Liquor committee presented an unusual united front in pressing for the amendment.

A bill increasing benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Act received House approval and was sent back to the Senate for concurrence in amendments. The increased payments range up to $34 instead of the present $27 for 400 weeks after accidental death.

A House amendment requires that employers of four or more employees must carry compensation insurance. This is now required of employers of eight or more.

Truman Insists On Tax Boost Of 4 Billions

Washington, May 12. (AP)—President Truman told his news conference today he still sees a need for a $4,000,000,000 increase in taxes to avoid a deficit and retire part of the public debt.

He believes in and has been practicing rigid government economy, he said.

He wants to apply between $2,000,000,000 and $5,000,000,000 toward the public debt.

Answering reporters who asked whether he still felt a $4,000,000,000 increase is necessary, the president first said that would be worked out when the amount of the deficit is determined. Later he said he did not expect any change in the tax program he proposed last January.

The last estimate of a deficit for the fiscal year ending June 30 placed it at between $600,000,000 and $700,000,000.

The discussion came when a reporter asked whether Mr. Truman's views squared with those of Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the House ways and means committee. Doughton said after a conference with the president yesterday that he (Doughton) favored rigid government economy instead of higher taxes.

Mr. Truman said he completely agreed with Doughton about economy and that he had practiced this in making his January budget recommendations.

He added the subject of their talk was social security and the two also were agreed on that.

He declined to comment on reports that his economic advisory council had reported to him that it would be desirable to avoid a big tax increase if it could be done without deficit financing. He did describe the report as not pessimistic.

The president said he makes economic reports to Congress twice a year based on the count-

Sigler Asks Action In Bribery Hearing

Supreme Court To Rule
In Macomb Dispute

Lansing, May 12. (AP)—Former Governor Kim Sigler extended some sort of an olive branch today, suggesting a speedy settlement of the dispute over who should prosecute ex-Senator Ivan A. Johnston in Macomb county.

Sigler wrote Attorney General Stephen J. Roth suggesting that they "bring all matters in controversy before the state supreme court at the earliest possible date."

Roth is appealing to the supreme court in an effort to have the colorful special prosecuting specialist taken off the Johnston case. He proposes to handle the prosecution of Johnston on a bribe charge himself.

Sigler said the real issue is "whether a former state senator is guilty or not guilty of accepting a bribe."

The attorney general had no immediate comment.

"The ends of justice should not be lost sight of in the controversy over who shall represent the people," Sigler said. "I therefore suggest that you and I enter into any necessary and proper stipulation to bring all the matters in controversy before the supreme court at the earliest possible moment."

Bribery Hint Starts Inquiry At Lansing

Letter Claims $20,000
Spent To Pass Bill

Lansing, May 12. (AP)—A special house investigating committee met with Attorney General Stephen J. Roth today (9 a. m.) to map a probe of what the house considered insinuations of bribery.

Appointed amidst much sudden heat yesterday, the committee was to ask A. J. Bloodworth, president of the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants, about his letter charging that $15,000 to $20,000 had been spent to obtain the passage of a bill blanketing in public accountants with 20 years' experience as certified public accountants.

Addressed to members of the association, the letter said "as near as we can determine, the public accountants spent between fifteen to twenty thousand dollars in getting senate bill 132 passed. It is interesting to note that on the first roll call, the bill did not pass, receiving only 50 votes. However, Mr. Storey (Rep. Bert J. Storey, R-Belding), chairman of the house state affairs committee, insisted on a second vote at which time 54 votes were cast in favor of the bill."

Copies of the letter were circulated by Storey late in yesterday's session and the hue and cry was up.

"This is an open insinuation," cried Rep. Robert M. Montgomery (R-Lansing), the house majority floor leader.

In an almost unprecedented speech from the rostrum, Speaker Victor A. Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie) said he considered it "the duty of the speaker to see that this was cleared up."

Crown Bill To Keep Northern Ireland Arouses Irish Ire

London, May 12. (AP)—The House of Commons passed a bill last night which keeps northern Ireland in the United Kingdom—if that country so wishes.

In Dublin, Prime Minister John Costello of the Republic of Ireland, which wants to annex the six northern counties, denounced the bill and said it might have "terrible consequences."

Both British Prime Minister Clement Attlee, for the labor party, and Anthony Eden, spokesman for the Conservatives, praised the bill which declares northern Ireland will remain under the British crown in the United Kingdom unless its own parliament votes otherwise.

A strongly pro-British parliament was elected in northern Ireland in February, six weeks before southern Ireland cut her last ties with Britain.

Ford Strike Makes Nearly 100,000 Idle

Peace Talks Begin Third Day At Detroit

Detroit, May 12. (AP)—Peace talks in the Ford strike moved into their third day today as the company's idle employees approached 100,000.

With 90,000 already off the job, there was a possibility that Ford's entire production force of 106,000 might soon be affected.

The CIO United Auto Workers' "speed-up" strike of 65,000 men began one week ago today.

For today's negotiations Ford pulled in another production expert as the company and union tried to square their differences in the operations rate dispute.

He was Del S. Harder, vice president in charge of manufacturing operations.

After yesterday's talks Ford admitted that its "peace offensive" was having less success than had been hoped for it.

"But we are plugging along," said John S. Bugas, head of the company's negotiators.

Meanwhile UAW president Walter Reuther intended to skip today's meeting in order to keep an engagement with CIO president Phil Murray in Pittsburgh.

The suit alleges Amos 'N' Andy sold their program to the Columbia Broadcasting System for $2,000,000 last summer and tried to end commission payments to the agency, contending the Lever Bros. contract was terminated.

But, the suit asserts, Lever Bros. continued as show sponsors.

Effective immediately, issue of two pairs of pajamas, women's, summer, and two pairs of pajamas, winter, is authorized to enlisted women of the WAC and WAF until stocks are exhausted."

But Generals Omar N. Bradley and Hoyt C. Vandenberg, who approved this directive, did not say what the army and air force women are to do with those winter pajamas this summer.

BEACH, PAVING JOBS SPURRED

Council Favors Prompt Action On Projects

The Escanaba city council directed City Manager A. V. Aronson at a special meeting Wednesday evening to proceed immediately with city paving and beach development projects, rather than delay these projects until the beginning of the fiscal year July 1.

It had been planned to delay the projects because of the city's shortage of funds in the remaining weeks of the present fiscal year. The council advised the manager that provisions would be made to borrow money for the balance of the fiscal year, if necessary, but that the paving program and beach development work should not be postponed.

The paving projects which will be given top priority are those for which petitions have been presented to the council and which the council has approved in recent meetings.

The city sander will be put into action on the beach project in the next few days. The operations will start at the harbor entrance where about two weeks work is required in deepening the channel. Then the sander will move to the beach job. Aronson said this morning that all of the remaining sand work at the beach can be completed next summer and early fall. Clay will also be hauled in to prepare the beach for seeding.

An appropriation of $25,000 for construction of a new beach house is included in the new budget. Preliminary work on this building may be done next fall, with the structure completed for the bathing season in 1950. It is planned to have the new beach in readiness by that time. The temporary beach on the north shore of Sand Point will be used again this summer, however.

A number of city steam customers appeared before the council Wednesday and recommended approval of the steam plant budget and continuance of the steam utility. Herbert Flath was the spokesman for the group.

The council authorized the manager and city attorney to negotiate a new lease with Jack Jacobson for the city-owned building occupied by the Solar Furniture company, which recently went into bankruptcy. Jacobson proposes to establish a new wood working industry in the building.

The council also approved an increase in Chamber of Commerce memberships by the city from 15 to 20.

The council's recommendations for the city budget in the next fiscal year were completed and copies of the budget are being printed and will be ready for distribution Friday. The budget will be published in Friday's issue of the Daily Press.

HOSPITAL

The condition of Charles Er-ford of Gladstone, who submitted to major surgery in St. Francis hospital Monday, is reported good. He has been hospitalized for the past nine days.

The plant has been idle since January 10 of this year. Until the shut-down the plant for many years had manufactured box grade plywood. It will now be converted to manufacture high grade plywood to fill the requirements of manufacturers of furniture, store fixtures, interior woodwork and many other wood products.

The lathes and dryers now installed will be used for the new product. However it will be necessary to install new equipment consisting of jointers, tapeless splitters, flue spreaders, hydraulic presses and sanders.

"The new machinery will be installed as available depending on speed in delivery from machinery manufacturers," Mr. Venne said today. "It is expected installation work should be completed in September with operation started as business is available. Production will necessarily start on a restricted basis because of the lack of experienced workmen for high grade panel manufacture but the management feels with normal business conditions production can gradually be increased so the labor force employed will again reach the total of 275 employees which was the employment of the Gladstone plant for some years prior to the loss of the tea chest exportation business the first of the year."

Ship 412,638 Tons Of Ore Last Month

Despite an earlier start of the ore shipping season this year total tonnage loaded at the Chicago & North Western docks during April was less than for the same period one year ago, according to a report from the ore dock office.

In March this year five boats loaded out with 51,556 tons of ore, compared with none during March 1948 from the Escanaba docks.

April shipments this year were 412,638 compared with 457,334 tons for the same month last year. It is expected that shipments will be speeded up during May and for the remainder of the season to establish a new record for any peacetime year since 1929. Last year the total ore tonnage shipped from Escanaba was 4,760,529.

There is the possibility that total tonnage this year will exceed 5,000,000, according to predictions made earlier in the season on the basis of the demands for steel. Prolonged strikes in automobile plants and other steel-consuming industries may lower the required tonnage from the iron mines.

TOURIST GROUP HOLDS MEETING

Early Walleye Season Proposal Deferred

Various phases of the tourist and resort business were discussed at a meeting of the Delta County Tourist Council at the Gladstone city hall last evening. About thirty-five persons attended. Walter O'Brien, president of the council, presided.

The council deferred action on a suggestion for opening the walleye sport fishing season on Bay de Noc before May 21. Stanley Lievense, fisheries supervisor of the Michigan Conservation department, said an extensive study of fishing conditions is being made, but he expressed the belief that further research on the spawning habits of the walleye should be made. He pointed out that any change in the fishing season must be made by the state legislature.

The council drafted a combination boat livery registration and creel census form, which will be printed and made available to operators. Information received in the creel census will be turned over to the conservation department. Persons renting boats will register their names, addresses and automobile license numbers on the forms. The plan was outlined by a committee composed of Ronald Watson, Ty Stermer and Dick Stoddard.

A list of boat liveries, fishing guides, trailer parks, stores remaining open evenings and other tourist facilities has been compiled and will be issued in mimeograph form for distribution to tourists.

A letter was also drawn up for the soliciting of registrations for the tourist room clearing house, which will be conducted by Claude Tobin Jr. of Escanaba. A resolution was adopted, proposing a fee of 50 cents be charged to tourist court operators to pay the cost of an extra telephone for the clearing house.

SCHOOL GIFT IS ANNOUNCED

Wm. Kell Offers $5,000 For Powers School

William Kell of Wilson has deposited in escrow $5,000 in the First National Bank at Hermansville as an outright gift to the Spalding township school district to apply toward the construction of a proposed addition to the new school, provided the school electors approve a $14,000 bond issue in the special election May 17, it has been announced by Chris H. Gribble, executive vice president of the bank.

The electors will vote on the bond issue and also upon a proposal to increase the millage 15 mills for a period of 10 years, beginning in 1952 when the present 20 mill tax expires.

The funds are needed to construct a six-room addition to the school building which is now under construction. The present contract provides for a 10 room building and an additional six rooms are required to accommodate all of the students of the township. Unless the increase is approved, students in the first four elementary grades will have to utilize the old school building again next year. This structure is regarded as unsafe and obsolete.

Tanker Reported Afire in Caribbean

Miami, Fla., May 12 (AP)—The Swedish tanker S. S. Atlanta was reported on fire in the Caribbean today. Planes and surface craft were rushing to her assistance, the Coast Guard said.

The 9,632-ton vessel sent out SOS signals at 1:35 a. m. (EST). The distress messages said all crew members had taken to lifeboats except the captain and the radio operator.

Coast Guard air sea rescue headquarters sent the ship, owned by Otto Kihlstrom of Gothenburg, Sweden, was approximately 500 miles northeast of Trinidad.

Joseph P. Schafer, Nahma, Dies Today

Joseph P. Schafer, 71, of Nahma, died at noon today in St. Francis hospital where he was receiving treatment for a heart ailment with which he has been afflicted for the past seven months.

Mr. Schafer was born at Sturgeon Bay on May 8, 1878. For the past 45 years he has been employed by the Bay de Noquet company at Nahma, retiring seven months ago because of ill health.

He was a member of the Holy Name Society.

Surviving besides his widow are the following children: William and Ivan of Nahma, Mrs. Ivan Marlowe of Detroit, and Mrs. Ted Beauchamp of Escanaba. Twelve grandchildren also survive.

The body is at the Allo funeral home and will be returned to the family home at Nahma Friday afternoon.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Saturday in St. Andrews church at Nahma with the Rev. Fr. James Schafer officiating. Burial will be in the Nahma cemetery.

Congressmen Boost Spending Allowance

House Bill Adds $3,500 For Expense Money

Washington, May 12 (AP)—House members stand a good chance of getting more money to foot their bills and to spread around among their employees.

Only nominal—if any—opposition was expected for a measure approved unanimously yesterday by the House administration committee. It would give each House member an additional $3,000 a year for clerk hire and up to $500 for official telephone and telegraph bills.

Approval by the Senate is considered certain in view of the traditional agreement between the two branches not to question each other's "housekeeping" arrangements.

House members now get around $12,000 a year for clerical help. While they get no fixed annual allowance for communications expenses, their telegraph charges, if incurred on strictly official business, are paid out of the contingent fund for miscellaneous House expenses. Telephone charges, however, are paid out of pocket.

The stationery, postage and normal pay and expense allotments of House members are not affected by the pending bill. The present salary of a House member is $12,500 a year, plus a tax-free $2,500 in expense money which members don't have to account for.

Seattle Girl Freed Of Killing Father With Butcher Knife

Seattle, May 12 (AP)—Loretta Jean Minneker, 17, was unable to tell right from wrong when she killed her father with a milk bottle and butcher knife, Juvenile Court Judge William G. Long said yesterday.

He made the statement in a memorandum decision clearing the high school student of a second degree murder charge, but continuing her in custody of the court.

The court found the father to have been intoxicated and surly. It said he insisted on the girl drinking at a tavern "to ease her pain" after extraction of four teeth.

Judge Long said Loretta was "in a delirium" when she struck and stabbed her father a short time later in the family home after hearing "some kind of a commotion between the father and mother."

GOULD CITY HS GRADUATES FIVE

Dr. E. C. Beck Speaks At Exercises

Gould City—Five seniors were graduated from Gould City high school at commencement exercises held today at the community building. Dr. E. C. Beck, of Central Michigan College of Education, delivered the commencement address, "What Shall I Do?"

Graduating were Lois Troyer, valedictorian; Eleanor Ehn, salutatorian; George Holt, class president; Willard Fisher, class vice president; and Phyllis Gould, class secretary.

Exercises opened with the procession of seniors, to Pomp and Circumstance, and invocation by the Rev. Kichak. "Youth in the Atomic Age" was the subject of the salutatory address given by Eleanor Ehn, and "The Golden Key to Success" of the valedictory, delivered by Lois Troyer.

T. R. Brawley presented diplomas to the graduates, after which Reverend Kichak pronounced benediction. Angus H. McDonald is superintendent of the school.

Class colors were blue and gold; the class flower was the American Beauty Rose, and the class motto, "Ambition Has No Rest."

Akron, O., Girl Gets Prison For Trying To Poison For Love

Akron, O., May 12 (AP)—Marilyn Stevenson lost her freedom today for attempting to poison the man she loved.

The 22-year-old receptionist was sentenced yesterday to two to 15 years in Marysville reformatory for women. She pleaded guilty to mingling food with poison.

The state charged she slipped into the home of Dr. Charles F. Jones, 36, a veterinarian, and put poison in a glass of milk. Dr. Jones merely tasted the milk and suffered no serious effects.

"I only wanted to make him suffer as I have suffered," she told police.

Miss Stevenson, receptionist in the Akron Veterinary hospital, testified she had an infatuation for the doctor similar to "hero worship." She admitted sending anonymous messages to Dr. Jones' wife urging her to give the veterinarian a divorce.

The political splitting of the city between east and west remained as deep as ever, however. Each still has its own police force, city government, fire department and other services.

Rioting Arabs Tear Down U.S. Flag From Tripoli Consulate

Tripoli, Libya, May 11 (AP)—Rioting Arabs tore the United States flag from the American consulate here yesterday, and threw stones and iron balls at the windows.

They were demonstrating against a British-Italian plan to restore Tripolitania to Italian trusteeship in 1951, which Arab leaders contend would throw the Tripolitanian people to Italian floggers.

The mob—sometimes chanting "Russia! Russia!"—stoned the French consulate, one stone striking the consulate. Demonstrators gathered also at the British consulate, shouting "down with Bevin."

U. S. Consul Orray Taft, jr., agreed not to fly the U. S. flag outside the consulate until the tension has eased.

The city was placed under curfew, and mobile British police units patrolled the streets.

PAINT BLOWS UP

Mt. Clemens, Mich., May 12 (AP)—Paint fumes ignited while Raymond Sargent, 47, of St. Clair Shores, was mixing paint near an oil stove in his kitchen last night. An explosion blew out all the kitchen windows and Sargent suffered serious burns.

Marquette Salesman Will Tally Expenses For Oats In June

Come June, Eddie Zyskowski of Marquette, a salesman, will tally expenses for oats.

The 46-year-old salesman plans to conduct his selling business between Marquette and Newberry on a horse, from June 19 to June 26. He claims he has never been on a horse before, but latest reports on the "asides" indicate that he is determined to complete the trip.

Zyskowski says he won't be sleeping in hotels or eating in restaurants either, thus completing the return to early "centennial" days.

Russia And West Allies End Iron Curtain In Berlin

Foreign correspondents, racing down Hitler's famous superhighway, were the first into Berlin from the west.

The vehicles had a big send-off at the old barrier points, which had been cleared of steel and concrete obstructions by work crews. There were cheering crowds, special lighting for the camera men, and a big display of the black, red and gold colors of the new west German government. The trains were plastered with placarded slogans.

New Freedom Hailed

The people, who had been slow to respond for days, really got into the mood. End of the blockade means for them the promise of fresh foods instead of the dehydrated stuffs the airlift had supplied them. It means more fuel, enough electric lights in their homes and an end of the street blackouts which the blockade caused. It means that they can move between the east and west sectors of Berlin, free again from the danger of molestation by the police. It means a sense of security they have not felt for the better part of a year.

The political splitting of the city between east and west remained as deep as ever, however. Each still has its own police force, city government, fire department and other services.

So they closed the schools today, business houses planned to suspend work early, and the people thumped each other and swapped congratulations in public and informal gatherings.

The first allied train into Berlin was halted only four minutes to get its clearance from the Russians. The Russian army officers did not even step aboard, or ask for identification papers of the passengers. They asked only for assurances that it carried no Germans, other than the train crew, which it did not.

Red Soldiers Affable

As the day wore on rail and highway traffic was reported moving "without incident." Included was the first post-blockade inter-zonal passenger bus, garlanded with evergreens and carrying 22 passengers.

The whole program went off with only two hitches, neither considered very serious as of now. The Russians insisted that Soviet-owned locomotives pull the trains. This the allies agreed to, subject to appeal to higher authority.

For hours Soviet guards refused to permit German trucks bound from Berlin to west Germany to pass their lines without licenses from the Soviet-controlled east German administration or the Soviet military government. Finally, however, the Russian officer at the clearing post left and the German police he had commanded waved the German drivers through, without explaining the reasons for the changes of attitude.

Travelers who have passed through Russian control points unanimously said they had been treated courteously, and that the Russian soldiers on duty seemed in affable mood.

Truman Insists On Four Billion Tax Increases

His findings and other information, and until he makes another such report he stands for economic controls. Whether this meant he may take a different position later was not brought out.

On other subjects, the president said:

He had no reason to comment on a report quoting him as telling a veterans committee that "there are too many Byrds (meaning Senator Byrd-D, Va.) in Congress." He said the conversation he had with a delegation of the American Veterans' committee was confidential.

Asked if this indicated a "purge" of Democrats opposed to some of his program, Mr. Truman said he is not interested in a purge. He added the people will take care of that.

He would not comment on a report quoting Rep. Williams (D-Miss.) as saying that the entire Mississippi delegation in Congress would be denied patronage rights. This was the first he had heard of it, he said.

His position in favor of repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act has not changed. Asked to comment on reports that some labor leaders are willing to make concessions in the labor legislation dispute, he said he had not talked with any labor leaders about that.

He hopes to fill the vacancies in the position of secretaries of the navy and navy within a few days. He referred reporters to Jonathan Daniels, Raleigh, N. C. editor, when asked why Daniels had turned down the navy secretaryship.

He is happy over the lifting of the Berlin blockade and agrees with a reporter that it is a source of encouragement in the world situation.

He would not elaborate on Secretary of State Acheson's statement yesterday that Franco is still a dictatorship which denies his citizens the fundamental human rights. He said Acheson answered the question, concerning which there has been recent controversy, as to whether the United States should resume fuller diplomatic relations with Spain.

Asked how his personal physician, Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, stands on his compulsory health insurance plan, Mr. Truman smiled and told the reporter he should know or Graham wouldn't be in his job.

Boy Who Stopped Living 10 Minutes Improves Steadily

Pasadena, Calif., May 12 (AP)—The four-year-old boy who stopped breathing for 10 minutes after an auto accident last Saturday is "much improved" and has spoken his first word since the mishap.

X-rays taken yesterday at Huntington Memorial hospital disclosed that Larry Page had not suffered a skull fracture as had been feared. However, his right elbow, wrist and left leg were fractured and he suffered extreme concussion and shock.

His father, Francis M. Page, Mojave, Calif., held a toy for the child to see yesterday and asked whose it was.

"Larry's," the boy replied feebly.

Larry was revived by an injection of coramine, a heart stimulant, and artificial respiration.

Mrs. C.C. Schuler Seriously Hurt In Fall On State Ferry

Gladstone—Mrs. C. C. Schuler, 1324 Minnesota avenue, is in St. Francis hospital, Escanaba, with injuries suffered in a fall on the upper deck of the state ferry, "City of Potoskey" Wednesday enroute from St. Ignace to Mackinaw City.

Mr. and Mrs. Schuler and their daughter were on their way from Gladstone to their farm at Rapid City when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Schuler slipped on the upper deck which was being washed down and in falling struck a guard rail of a life boat. Partially paralyzed, she was given treatment by a physician in Mackinaw City and then was brought to St. Francis hospital. X-rays are being taken to determine the cause of the paralysis.

Israel Is Admitted To UN Membership

New York, May 12 (AP)—Israel's admission as the 59th member of the United Nations has finally been approved. A simple flag-raising ceremony today winds up the formalities.

The general assembly approved the Israeli application last night by a vote of 37-12, with nine countries abstaining.

The decision was followed by an Arab walk-out, but some of the Arab countries' representatives returned for a late night meeting, indicating that the protest was ended.

Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett took his seat as a regular delegate immediately after yesterday's vote. He delivered a formal address on Israel's general foreign policy.

Troopers Suspended For Refusing Help In Boating Accident

Potoskey, Mich., May 12 (AP)—Two State Police troopers accused of refusing to help rescue victims of a boat accident were under suspension today.

The troopers, Herman Heuvelhorst and Allan Friedberg, both of the Cheboygan post, appeared yesterday before a trial board. State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard conducted the hearing.

Heuvelhorst was suspended for 90 days and put on six months probation. Friedberg was given a 30-day suspension and 30 days probation.

Heuvelhorst pleaded innocent, but Friedberg entered a guilty plea.

The troopers were allegedly in a restaurant when a Boy Scout reported that a boat had overturned in the harbor at Harbor Springs.

"The two made no effort to determine the seriousness of the situation," the board reported, "or to go to the rescue of the men."

Private citizens later rescued the boatmen.

MIDGET PLANE CRASHES

Rep. Hoffman, 73, Not Quitting Yet

Washington (AP)—Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.), veteran member of Congress, says he has no intention of retiring voluntarily.

"I'm going to retire when a majority of the voters in my district don't send me back here," the 73-year-old lawmaker told the House.

Hoffman noted suggestions that he and some older members of Congress retire. He has been in Congress since 1935.

April was warmer and drier than normal.

New Vets' Pension Plan Is Reasonable

THE new veterans pension bill drafted by the house veterans committee represents a long retreat from the original bill presented by Rep. Rankin of Mississippi. The revised proposal is one that is based upon reason and justice. The bill establishes disability and need as the basis of pension benefits, rather than the principle of reward.

The new bill provides for a pension of $72 per month for veterans at age 65, or in cases of total disability, at less than 65. It is not a pension grab, such as the first Rankin plan was.

The new bill actually does not materially change existing conditions. The veterans administration already possesses discretionary power to approve pensions for veterans on the basis of disability or need. The proposal now submitted liberalizes these benefits by establishing the rights of veterans to pensions in such cases, removing the discretionary authority of the veterans administration.

The bill further limits such pensions to veterans earning $1,200 per year if unmarried or less than $2,500 if married.

This proposal is estimated to cost about 15 billion dollars over a period of 50 years. The first Rankin plan would have paid $90 a month to all veterans, regardless of need, and would have cost an estimated 125 billion dollars.

The veterans pension plan now before congress is one that almost certainly will draw support from many congressmen who were opposed to the original proposal of Rep. Rankin.

Hague Defeated In Jersey City

THE defeat of the Hague political machine in Jersey City in Tuesday's municipal election marks the end of one of the worst examples of bossism in American history.

Frank Hague has been king and dictator of Jersey City for many, many years, during which he built and controlled a political gang that thrived upon corruption. Although the 73-year-old Hague was not a candidate, the Hague ticket was handpicked in this election, just as it was in all other elections in past years. The slate was headed by Hague's nephew, Frank Hague Eggers whom Hague named as mayor of Jersey City two years ago when Hague stepped out of the office. Eggers, of course, was merely a front man for Hague, who continued to run the show.

Hague was defeated by a Fusion ticket led by John V. Kenny, himself a onetime trusted lieutenant of Hague but who was ousted as a ward leader by Hague last year.

It is still uncertain whether the housecleaning by Jersey City voters will result in clean, efficient government but one thing is certain. It cannot possibly be any worse than in the 32 years that Boss Hague ruled the roost.

Is It A Star Or A Satellite?

THE possible discovery of a second satellite of the planet Neptune, announced by the University of Chicago, perhaps is an astounding development in the field of science.

We have to concede that we are truly ignorant about most of the things that astronomers get excited about. The new star is said to be about a million times fainter than the faintest star that can be seen with the naked eye. It is still uncertain whether the newly discovered star is really a satellite of Neptune. Scientists will conduct further research to verify the suspicion.

We certainly have no desire to belittle the work of astronomers. On the contrary, their infinite patience and devotion to their cause deserves heartiest commendation. Undoubtedly they have contributed vastly to the store of knowledge, most of which has been beneficial to modern living.

Nevertheless, we confess that we are unable to get into much of a dither about the possible discovery of a star that may be a satellite but which is so distant from us that we would have to have eyesight a million times better than we now have before we could see it even faintly.

So Are The Mighty Fallen

THE Gaekwar of Baroda, India, long considered one of the world's richest men, has lost his state with its population of three millions. The territory is being merged this week with the province of Bombay.

The new legislative assembly of India recently approved this action and the dividing of the Baroda area into four districts. The Gaekwar, or ruling prince, is making the best of a bad job. He announces that he is glad to be relieved of a great burden of responsibility. Just how much of his private fortune he will be permitted to keep is not known. Should another great famine assail India soon, he will be expected to come to the relief of the hungry to the extent of his remaining assets.

ed to come to the relief of the hungry to the extent of his remaining assets.

Big fortunes all over the world are being dissolved by taxes and by even more drastic political action. A woman asked us the other day if, in our opinion, fifty thousand dollars would be enough to keep her for the rest of her life. The answer is, of course, that she cannot be at all sure of having fifty thousand dollars for any length of time. Things are moving too fast, investments are in such a state of flux and flow that no one can be sure of today's personal fortune indefinitely.

The wisest old business man we know told us recently that he would gladly part with half of his worldly fortune and goods if he could be reasonably and responsibly assured of keeping the other half. This man has been doing some real thinking. He feels that the changes coming over the world in recent years have greatly altered the financial picture. The fact is that very few financial factors can be banked on any more. We are like the Gaekwar, solid as a rock one day, and secure in the matter of fortune and privilege, only to see our hopes and dreams, and our fortunes and powers, crumble the next.

These are perilous times. Caution, humility and staying power are the virtues of the day. They will carry many a man and woman through safely in the next few years, who could easily lose their shirts by assuming that everything is lovely and that there will be no changes. Change is the order of the day, and too often it comes with frightful suddenness. To expect it and be ready for it is the part of wisdom.

WILLOW WHISTLES

Listen! Can you hear them? The pipes of Pan are making music these May days along country roads and fence-lined lanes. Now that it's time to turn cows out to pasture you can hear farm boys making music as they follow the bossies to and from the pasture gate. There is something about willow whistle time and small boys in spring that reassures the adult population and makes a man certain that all is fundamentally right with the world.

Men who sit behind desks and look out at the greening world recall the days when they made the whistles. A craftsman can construct instruments of different sizes and slightly different angles of the cut to produce different-toned whistles. Country boys know that the willows near water are easier to work than willows growing in drier soil. They do not always know that it is part of the magic and mystery of tree-life that permits the outer bark to slip off easily after it has been rapped a few times. A tree has two pipe lines during the growing season. These lines carry water from the tiny hair rootlets to the leaves; this is worked by the sunlight in a motor called chlorophyll. Then when food is manufactured it has to be carried back all the way down to the tiniest roots. The ducts for this food line are just under the bark. The food is jelly-like, soft and mushy. Therefore, especially in the flush tide of spring, one can easily remove a bark covering from branch or trunk.

No one knows who first discovered a whistle could be made of willow. It isn't important. The essential thing is that while spring is here the plaintive shrill, almost poignant whistles are making music along with the robins, bluebirds and phoebes. Now that the weather man seems determined to catapult from winter to the edge of summer without giving us a season we can really call spring, the whistles are all the more welcome. Along with the marbles, jack-knives, lucky coins, fish hooks, sinkers, colored pebbles, match covers, bottle caps and string that constitute standard equipment for 10-year-olds' pants pockets, it is good to know there is an assortment of willow whistles. Listen! Can you hear them? At least the willow pipes bring us memories of the good old days when spring was a recognizable season in the calendar. —Haydn Pearson.

HERE ARE SOME MORE STOPLIGHTS OF SPEECH

On a recent radio theater broadcast, Rosalind Russell, a quite American young woman and a talented actress, caused the spotlight to wink as if it had a cinder in its eye by her repeated voicing of the British pronunciation "bean" for the simple word been.

The role she played was that of an American business woman, and there was no British influence at all in the play. Therefore, it seems certain that Miss Russell believes, as do many other American players, that "bean" is a more correct American pronunciation than "bin."

I am sorry to explode that myth, for I realize how painful it is to learn that a pronunciation which one has so carefully cultivated is not good American usage and often acts as a spotlight in switching the attention from what is being said to how it is being said.

The pronunciation "bean" for been is a Britishism, as most dictionaries attest. It is also heard frequently in Canada. One hears it occasionally in some of the Eastern states as the result of Canadian and British influence.

But "bean" never has been an American pronunciation, and it always has an incongruous sound in an otherwise Standard American speech pattern.

Democrats Unite On Public Power

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington. — Every time the Truman program receives a setback in congress whoops of joy go up from the various and assorted interests, political and economic, that would like to see the whole thing stopped dead.

Childs

The somewhat premature rejoicing over the administration defeat on a new labor law is still echoing.

There is one issue, however, on which the Democrats have held an almost unbroken line in spite of powerful and persistent lobbying. That is on public power and the public ownership of transmission lines from the government's great power projects.

In the campaign last fall this was one of President Truman's most emphatic challenges, especially in the west where the power shortage directly touches the lives of millions. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's evasiveness on this issue is believed to have cost him many votes.

Shortly, the senate will consider a request from the department of interior for funds to build transmission lines in the Northwest and the Southwest. The $3,570,000 for transmission lines linking the Bonneville power system in Washington and Oregon with the Hungry Horse dam in Montana precipitated a brief but sharp encounter in the house.

JENSEN AND MANSFIELD

That stout defender of the private utilities, Rep. Ben Jensen of Iowa, sought to knock out this appropriation. The entire utility lobby, sparked by the Montana Power Co. and Purcell Smith, highly paid lobbyist for the industry, went into action.

Chief battler for the transmission lines was Rep. Mike Mansfield of Montana. In a vigorous speech Mansfield pointed out how essential the added power was to develop basic industries in his state and provide power for rural electrification. He showed that by interconnecting these great western dams it would be possible to produce at least three times the volume of power that could be produced if they remained as isolated units.

The vote in favor of keeping the money to build the transmission lines in the bill was 146 to 56. Not a single Democrat voted against the publicly owned transmission lines.

Opposition to public transmission lines in the southwest was not pushed so far. While private utility witnesses testified in committee against the Southwest project, it was not fought out on the floor.

One very good reason was Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas. The Southwest power administration, covering Arkansas, Louisiana and parts of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri, is Rayburn's pride and joy. Attempts in the past to short-circuit Southwest power development have met with Rayburn's adamant opposition. He is a shrewd and resourceful opponent with wide popularity in the house.

Because of his consistent support of public power, the utilities some years ago went all out for a rival candidate in Rayburn's district in Texas. But about all they accomplished was to confirm the speaker in his strong feelings about the power lobby.

BOYLE GOT INTO TROUBLE

During the controversy in the house one curious angle came to light. It developed that William Boyle, executive director of the Democratic national committee, had written a letter to the department of interior in behalf of 11 private power companies in the Southwest suggesting that negotiations be pushed between private and public power interests that would preserve the rights and territories of each.

The department is believed to have referred the letter in routine fashion to the Southwest power administration for a reply. The able administrator of southwest is Douglas G. Wright, who is a close friend of Rayburn.

Advocates of public power in the Southwest got word of the Boyle letter and saw that it was brought to the speaker's attention. Rayburn, whose emotional boiling point is low, is said to have taken an angry protest to the White House. At about this time Boyle's connection with the Southwest power companies was ended. And not long afterward the president decided that the executive director of the Democratic committee should be a full-time paid employee with no private law business on the side.

The 80th congress turned down a request from the Tennessee Valley Authority for funds to start construction of a standby steam plant at New Johnsonville, Tenn. Both houses in the present congress have now approved the steam plant, which figured in the last presidential campaign. Here is an instance where the clearly expressed will of the voters is translated into action.

Indeed, some of our newer dictionaries do not list "bean" at all, even as a Britishism. See the American College Dictionary, by Random House, and the Thorndike Century. They show "bin" only.

Of course there is no law against saying "bean." On the other hand, nothing is gained by saying "bean," except, unfortunately, the appearance of affectation and the creation of an undesirable spotlight of speech.

In all sincerity I must continue to urge my readers to shun any pronunciation or manner of speaking that does not conform with good American usage. That advice is plain common sense, or so it seems to me.

Another Britishism that we hear occasionally on the radio, though less often than formerly, is "PROE-puh-GAN-duh" for the word propaganda. The first syllable should not rhyme with "three, grow." No dictionary sanctions it, not even the Oxford English Dictionary.

The correct pronunciation of the first syllable is "prop" as in propagate, proper, property. In other words, propaganda is "that which propagates."

The correct pronunciation is: PROP-uh-GAN-duh.

LIGHTNING DANGER—There has been an unusual number of thunder storms in this area for so early in the year. Yet to our knowledge the only casualty of the lightning is Smokey, a beagle hound, who was killed early last Friday morning while sleeping at the foot of his master's bed.

Smokey was the rabbit-hunting pet of Pete Gagner, who with his wife operates Old Park Store on the road to Stonington.

Mr. and Mrs. Gagner and their grandson, Larry, eight, were unhurt.

The lightning struck at 1:15 a. m. followed the telephone line into the house, from the telephone it jumped to the radio, thence to a lamp in the living room, and then to a lamp in the Gagner's bedroom. In the bedroom it killed Smokey, sleeping on a rug at the foot of the bed.

Fire started on the wall around the phone. That and the death of Smokey and a damaged radio were the only visible effects of the lightning bolt's visit. Young Larry did not even wake up.

TWO OF A KIND—A friend of ours directs attention to the fact that except for 1949 and 1947 there has been—for many years—at least two Delta county supervisors with the same last name on the county board.

Last year, for instance, there were two Quinns—Tom of Escanaba and Frank of Gladstone. In 1946 there were two Merciers, Allen of Naluma and Leo of Fairbanks. In 1945, 1944, 1943 and 1942 there were two Merciers and in addition two Andersons—the late Carl of Escanaba and Wesley of Stonington. The two Andersons were also on the board in 1941, 1940 and 1939.

HOW MUCH?—There is an essential job to be done in convincing young people that the easy path to jobs—high-pay jobs—may soon be a thing of the past. So said Allan Mathison of Escanaba Senior high school faculty in speaking to the Escanaba Rotary club recently.

Boys and girls think the easy job experience of their older brothers and sisters is "normal." Mathison continued. In reality it was a postwar condition that cannot, by all rules of economics, continue for very long. There are already many indications that the period of jobs for everyone at high pay is ended.

Part-time jobs for some of the students who say they want work are difficult to fill, because so many boys refuse to do such work as remove storm windows, mow lawns, or other odd jobs.

"I'd rather be broke!" one boy exclaimed when he was told of such a part-time job opportunity.

One of the first questions the boys ask, said Mathison, is not how long the job will last, when they can go to work, or whether they can arrange their schedule to accept, but "How much does it pay?"

WATER FRONTAGE—One of our friends who likes the out-of-doors commented the other day that when you live in Escanaba or any other Upper Peninsula city it is "just like living in the country." Compared with life in the city, it probably is. Yet year by year it is becoming more difficult for the public to obtain access to publicly-owned shore frontage.

For example there is Little Bay de Noc, public waters affording some of the finest game fishing to be found in the Upper Peninsula. Where is there public access to Little Bay? In the parks at Escanaba and Gladstone, some frontage in Fuller Park owned by the county; Ensign township has a park at Twin Springs on the Stonington shore, and the U. S. Forest Service has frontage at Peninsula Point lighthouse.

Big Bay de Noc frontage is also largely in private ownership and the time will come when the closing of that frontage to public use will be most keenly felt.

The answer lies in planning for public water frontage sites at desirable locations and acquiring them as fast as funds will permit. The delay of another 20 or 30 years can seriously affect the recreation possibilities of the area.

AND HIGHWAYS—It is undoubtedly wishful thinking that dictates a desire to make our highways serve us for pleasure as well as utility. Considering the thin highway fund purse it will probably be many years before the taxpayers will again splurge on shoreline highway construction.

In the Province of Ontario they are talking of building 170 miles of highway through the north-of-Lake Superior wilderness. Here in Delta county we might wish for the relocation of U.S.-2-41 atop the Gladstone heights, revealing to motorists one of the outstanding views of the county; or a road circling the top of Burnt Bluff cliffs on the Garden Peninsula.

Like more water frontage, the dream of shoreline highways is something to plan for. Meanwhile, highway funds will of necessity go to keep auto and truck wheels out of the mud, a far more essential service.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington. — President Truman really had the time of his life at his 65th birthday party—so much so that he stayed until 2:05 a. m. and had Speaker Sam Rayburn grousing under his breath about keeping everybody up so late. For, under official protocol, no guest—even the speaker—can leave until the president himself says good-bye to his hostess.

Pearson

Mr. Truman enjoyed every minute of it—even unwrapping the birthday gifts. There were 70 presents, from the 70 supposedly "intimate" friends who gathered at the Larz Anderson mansion which saw some of the most famous social events of the early century.

To unwrap 70 birthday presents is quite a chore, especially in front of a big crowd of people. The president tackled it bravely, but was pleased when Vice President Alben Barkley came to the rescue.

The vice president's running-fire comment on the president's presents resembled the patter of a magician pulling rabbits out of a hat.

"These won't do you much good," said the vice president, holding up a pair of swimming trunks for all to see. "The cameras can't get anywhere near you, Mr. President."

IS MARGARET HOPE-CHESTING?

Attorney General Tom Clark, who is annual host to the president on his birthday, proposed the chief toast of the evening in a speech that was not as good as one of his supreme court arguments. Mr. H. T., replying, accepted a set of after-dinner coffee cups from the cabinet.

"I'm going to take these home and give them to a blue-eyed blonde who was sick and had to stay at home tonight," said the president in reply. "That is, with your permission."

"What do we care who he gives 'em to," said Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder in a side remark to Undersecretary of Defense Steve Early.

Other guests, however, started a pleasant buzz of speculation as to whether Margaret was filling her "hope chest."

It was the vice president who paid Margaret the most fulsome tribute.

"One of the loveliest members of the Truman family has not been toasted tonight," he began, and continued with flowery and southern chivalry, in one of those tributes which no one around the capital except Barkley can give.

During the dinner, Frankie Govan went from table to table playing the accordion. For the vice president he played "Wagon Wheels" while Barkley sang. For the chief justice he played "My Old Kentucky Home" and at the request of Secretary of the Navy Sullivan, he played "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." Sullivan, Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York and Steve Early supplied an uncertain vocal accompaniment.

SAM RAYBURN ON TEXAS

The speech of the evening came from Speaker Rayburn.

"Of course, us Texans," said Sam, "never talk much about ourselves. But there was a Bostonian who came down to San Antonio and saw an old building near the center of town.

"What's that?" he asked.
"That's the Alamo."

"What happened there?"
"Didn't you ever hear what happened there? That's where about thirty-odd Texans held off 10,000 Mexicans, and before they were finished they had run out of ammunition and had to hold off 5,000 Mexicans with the butts of their guns."

"And what's that?" asked the visitor from Boston, pointing to a statue.
"That's a statue of the Texas Ranger. Single-handed he killed 163 outlaws, all armed with guns."

"The Bostonian was silent for a minute. Then he asked: 'Did you ever hear of Paul Revere?'"

"The Texan scratched his head, but finally replied: 'Oh, yes, he's the man who sent for help.'"

THE PRESIDENT PERFORMS

The president's birthday cake was in blue and gold and had only three candles. After he had blown them out and the dessert was finished, the ladies retired and Mr. Truman dragged Jose Iturbi, who had flown especially from Hollywood, courtesy of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and Barney Breckin, who had come from the Shoreham, courtesy of Maxine Lowe, over to the piano. And for the next 45 minutes, Mr. Truman, president, and Mr. Iturbi, pianist, took turns at their favorite melodies.

The president played first—Faderewski's "Minuet in G." Then he went into a number of Chopin, which Iturbi said was seldom played by anyone—"Battle of the Waterloos."

"I'm just nuts about Chopin," exclaimed the president.

WHIM-KILLERS WIN LENIENCY

Ruark Thinks Too Much
Mercy Shown Them

By ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—We have come lately to a new appreciation of crime, in which we tend to excuse the criminal in terms of his past unhappiness, while forgetting that the corpse is no less dead if killed either in premeditated coldness or knocked off merely to gratify a whim.

We will strap an angry motivated murderer to the chair and fry him to a turn, but we often loose the stupid, wanton killer, or the chronic child molester, and allow him to remain a constant menace to the people around him so long as he lives. Generally on the grounds that "he didn't mean to do it."

The parents of little Diane Allen, who drowned a playmate out in Joliet, Ill., to gratify an "urge," mentioned that 13-year old Diane had followed the progress of a previous Chicago killing with heavy interest. In this one, a 14-year old murderer was freed by a judge who based his decision on the supposition that young Howard Lang was unable to separate right from wrong.

Young Lang's inability to distinguish between right and wrong seems of little importance, if it leads him to go around knocking off his associates in a free-hand fashion, and encouraging others to imitate him. I would rate him more dangerous to the community than a professional killer who pushes icepicks into business rivals for a stated fee.

By the same token I would rank little Diane a more threatening member of society, since she killed merely to gratify her ego, than the late Ruth Snyder, who at least had some evil logic back of her decision to remove her old man.

Excuses for Environment
The tendency today is to excuse the serious criminal in terms of his environment, his mentality, his psychological framework, which finally is of no real importance to the victim of the crime of which he is accused. Question is whether he did or didn't, and is he likely to do it again?

You can check it yourself, in the papers. Every time they catch one of the perverts who abuse children and kill them after a record of past sex offenses always bobs up. Every wanton killer, every thrill-killer, invariably produces a record of short sentences, suspended sentences, of benign treatment by the courts and the social workers who plead that poor Joe doesn't know any better.

In a recent, horrible child-slashing in the Bronx, the miserable freak who confessed showed the usual record of the warped who can't separate right from wrong. None of them have been able to tell right from wrong since they first set fire to the kitty-cat.

But this mental unmorality is often exploited in the courts to lighten the sentence or forgive the culprit altogether. We had a case here not so long ago where a private cop went whisky-mad in a subway and shot to death a complete stranger. They let him off with a promise to pay the deceased's widow $1500.

Prefers Murder, Inc.
He is loose in New York today, which is a reason I seldom ride subways. I would rather see a late member of Murder, Inc., still plying his trade in Brooklyn. At least those boys knew who they were supposed to slap off, and seldom worked out on the innocent bystander.

It seems to me that the criminal concept is up for some revision. If I am suddenly dead, for no good reason, it comforts me small to learn in ghostly retrospect that I was murdered to gratify an urge or expunged because the gunner was unable to tell wrong from right. Or that my child has been killed wantonly by some cretin whose abnormality has been advertised by a series of less serious offenses.

You see now where there is agitation to free Nathan Leopold, the surviving half of the perverted thrill-kill team of Leopold and Loeb, I would personally prefer to unleash Gargantua in Grand Central.

It is only my personal opinion that the whim-killer, the stupid killer, should be either eliminated or shut away for life, and that the first time a sex offender is brought to court be the last. You send him away with a lecture and it is merely a matter of time before somebody's little boy or little girl is found stuffed in a culvert. The corpse's parents rarely are interested in whether the monster had been misunderstood by his mother.

5 doctors prove this plan breaks the laxative habit

If you take laxatives regularly—here's how you can stop!

Because 5 New York doctors now have proved you may break the laxative habit. And establish your natural powers of regularity. Eighty-three per cent of the cases tested did it. So can you.

Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead: Every night for one week take 2 Carter's Pills. Second week—one each night. Third week—one every other night. Then—nothing! Every day: drink eight glasses of water; set a definite time for regularity.

Five New York doctors proved this plan can break the laxative habit.

How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's Pills "unblock" the lower digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural powers.

Further—Carter's Pills contain no habit-forming drugs.

Break the laxative habit... with Carter's Pills... and be regular naturally.

When worry, overeating, overwork make you irregular temporarily—take Carter's Pills temporarily. And never get the laxative habit. Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore for 33¢ today. You'll be grateful the rest of your life.

WHEN YOU BUY

Vacuum packing insures the freshness of coffee until the vacuum seal is opened. After that, air causes the coffee to begin losing freshness. Therefore, coffee should be purchased in a size of container that will be used within a week. About 40 cups of coffee beverage, rich in flavor and aroma, as well as strength, can be obtained from a pound of coffee... so

If only two or three cups are made daily in your home, it's WISE to buy the half-pound SIZE of Hills Bros. Coffee.

If you average about six cups of coffee daily in your home, it's WISE to buy the one-pound SIZE of Hills Bros. Coffee.

Rhinelanders Cops May Have to Walk

Rhinelanders, Wis.—This is one town that doesn't have a walking policeman.

But if city businessmen have their way, at least one cop will exercise his feet.

Merchants here have complained to the City Council that it isn't necessary for two patrolmen to ride in the police car at all times. They say that one officer at least should patrol downtown streets—on foot—during the day and early evening hours to answer visitors' questions, check doors of stores after closing hours and perform other duties.

Sgt. Jacob Miller, the acting chief, and City Atty. George A. Richards suggested that an additional officer be hired for that purpose, at least for the summer months when city streets are packed with tourists.

The City Council took no action but said it would think about it.

SYMPATHY IN JAIL

Coldwater, (P)—He was looking for sympathy, William Lee admitted to police, but he sought it in the wrong place. Police said that Lee, 24, ran out of money en route from Bay City to his home in Des Moines, Ia. So he reported that a hitchhiker had robbed him of $31, after officers in several counties were alerted. Lee admitted it was a hoax. Justice Jack Sutherland sentenced him to 45 days in jail.

How Would You Say It?

Curley Lawson's cousin from back East and a few of us got talking when he was here visiting, and I couldn't help noticing how different he said things.

For instance, he said, "Lifting that 200-pound bag of cement almost killed me." "You mean sack of cement?" asks Curley. (That's the way we'd say it.) "No," interrupts young Elliott who'd spent a lot of time down South, "He means a 'poke of cement.'"

It was good for a chuckle, anyway. Bag, sack or poke—we knew what he was trying to say. It just depends on where you are in the U. S., which way sounds right.

From where I sit, whenever we criticize someone for sounding funny to us, we ought to think how we sound to them. It's the same as choosing your liquid refreshment. I'm accustomed to a moderate glass of beer—you may like ginger ale—but who's to say the other's wrong? I'd say we're both right!

Legislature Grinds Out 59 Measures In Lansing On Tuesday

Lansing, Mich., (P)—The legislature, grinding its way through 59 bills Tuesday, found itself confronted again with two of the major issues of the 1949 session—abolition of the one-man grand jury and changes in the unemployment compensation law.

Wading through a pre-adjournment pile-up in two of their heaviest days yet, the Senate passed 30 bills and the House 29. The Senate took off the table and passed a House-approved bill permitting parochial and private school pupils to obtain transportation in public school buses along the buses' normal routes.

Senator James T. Milliken (R-Traverse City) said the practice was going on anyway and might as well be legalized.

The Senate also accepted a House bill lowering the standards required for a state director of the mental health commission, which long has been vacant because the few men eligible have refused the job.

The law now requires appointment by the commission and governor of a man who is a physician with 10 years of psychiatric experience. The bill permits the commission alone to appoint a man with 10 years of administration experience.

The Senate defeated a bill to legalize high school fraternities and sororities even if approved by school authorities.

It voted to require that sex education in the public schools be taught by a trained physical education instructor.

The Senate agreed with the House that money-swollen townships should be allowed to spend some of their cash for school lunch programs.

And it passed a House bill permitting Ironwood to join with Hurley, Wis., in a sewage disposal system.

The House again deferred schedule debate on measures to levy a use tax on used cars and on admissions to professional athletic contests.

Advanced for a vote today was the Senate measure providing for increases in death and injury payments under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

More debate was planned on a Senate provision that those employing three or more employees would be required to carry compensation insurance. A House committee had restored the present law making insurance compulsory only for those employing eight or more.

The Senate approved a bill permitting the Roosevelt hotel in Lansing to get a liquor license even though it is too close to a church squeezed through the House on a 52-40 vote. The move was sponsored by Democrats who make the Roosevelt their unofficial headquarters.

Mortgages and land contracts would be considered real instead of personal property in computing old age assistance eligibility under another Senate measure passed in the House 53-39. Recipients are allowed much more real property than personal property before they are disqualified from assistance.

A weak version of free immunization was passed in the House much as it passed the Senate. The bill provides that free clinics may be held for immunization to care

Mongrel Dog Saves His Mauled Master

Gillespie, Pa., (P)—A little mongrel dog is the toast of his neighborhood for saving his master.

The dog, Chubby, jumped into the fray when he saw his master, Jackie Strickler, 4, being mauled by a larger dog. Chubby fought the dog until family members rescued the child. Jackie is in fair condition at a hospital where doctors said one ear was torn off and a facial nerve paralyzed.

The current Ford Motor Company strike, over an alleged speedup, is merely the prelude to a struggle that may decide the pattern of labor relations for years to come.

Some informed observers believe that the UAW is bedeviled by another acute outbreak of the internal struggle between International President Walter Reuther and some of the old leadership he has twice beaten, including Vice-President Richard T. Leonard who is in charge of the Ford division of the union.

If that is the case, the UAW may find itself divided when it sits down with Vice-President John S. Burgas and his Ford associates to decide two $64 questions for which all industry and all labor are waiting the answers: First—will unions permit the falling cost of living to change the postwar habit of annual pay boosts? If not, what effect will pay raises at this stage have on consumer prices?

Second—how deeply sincere is the UAW in its demand for "social security"—for pension, disability, insurance, medical provisions? Does it place them ahead of dollars in the weekly pay check? Will it fight and strike for them?

Bugas, former G-man who has made a name for himself as Ford's labor relations expert, has called Reuther's attention to the drop in consumer prices which makes the wage dollar go further and also makes it harder for Ford to raise prices to cover the costs of any fourth-round boost.

But Reuther has cited the concession of Henry Ford II, last spring, that a fourth round probably is inevitable. He has announced that the UAW will demand whatever raise is necessary to bring members' buying power back to the level of June 1946, when the OPA was ended.

On top of that, Ford and the industry generally have been notified, the union will demand a pension and retirement program to give each man, at age 60, a minimum of $100 a month, aside from his social security benefits, plus a health, hospital, medical, surgical, disability and life insurance program.

It is estimated that the full demand would cost Ford 41 cents an hour for every employee. To bring the "social security" program up to date for benefit of old timers in company employ, it is reported, would make the company put up $243,000,000 the first year.

Phillip Murray's steel workers are preparing similar demands against their industry. Murray had intended to take the lead in putting over a social security program, but his negotiations will not start until about June 15. The deadline for UAW on Ford demand is May 15. Already they have been presented in broad outline.

It has been expected that actual negotiations would begin soon after that date. The "speedup" strike may delay things somewhat, but the Ford-UAW contract expires July 15, and Reuther would like to be the man to put across "social security" in a big way. So probably great efforts will be made to get contract negotiations going in spite of this strike.

The Big Three in automobiles—Ford, General Motors and Chrysler—are in slightly different situation than most consumer goods makers, because they still have some backlog of unsatisfied demand. But the backlog is thin. Some experts say that all but two specific makes of car, both General Motors, can be had this summer with almost no wait.

A genuine buyers' market in all makes is seen just around the corner. Most makers, including Ford and General Motors but not Chrysler, have made at least token price cuts. And GM workers have taken a two-cent an hour pay cut under their cost-of-living contract.

So the Bugas-Reuther argument will be watched closely by all business and all labor as a tip-off what will be in the pay envelope for the next little while. Bugas' letter to Reuther in March hinted that the company is willing to consider the "social security" program only if the union will cut its cost out of wages. This is, of course, only the first jab in the preliminary sparring, but two years ago a similar situation resulted in the company and union agreeing to alternative proposals to the workers.

The members were asked then to vote whether they would take an across-the-board raise of 11½ cents an hour, plus six paid holidays that would add 3½ cents an hour to the company's expense—or whether they would accept a 7-cent boost plus a pension plan on which union and company agreed.

The vote was overwhelmingly for the bigger raise and against the pension plan, which the union had demanded as fiercely then as it does now. Leonard, who fathered that pension drive, claimed that Reuther had joined the Communists in knifing it because of union politics. Another high official, however, said the men merely agreed with the old saying that "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush."

Subtly Dominating
Type of Mother
Does Most Harm

Baltimore, May 12 (P)—What type of mother is apt to do the most damage to the minds and personalities of children?

A posthumous report by Dr. Trude Tietze, Johns Hopkins psychiatrist, says it is the "subtly dominating" type of mother. The report is to appear in the coming issue of the Technical Journal, psychiatry.

The 39-year-old native of Vienna died Saturday, a victim of cancer. She came to the United States 11 years ago.

She began interviewing mothers of split personality children in a Maryland institution two years ago, knowing then that she had not too long to live.

Dr. Tietze's definition of a subtly dominating mother is one who believes she is good to her children but manages to develop a headache when the children want to go out for a good time.

In extreme cases, Dr. Tietze found, the child finally drops all outside interests and self expression, fearing the mother will interfere.

Job Clinics May
Help Housewives
Add To Income

Detroit, May 12 (P)—Now they're thinking of "job clinics" for Michigan's busy housewives. The idea is to help them turn their talents into profits to bolster the family income.

With this end in mind, Michigan would have an advisory council to help its women establish home or independent businesses.

The proposal grew out of a meeting yesterday at the State Planning and Development Agencies convention. The Michigan program would be modeled after one already in effect in New York.

First step, a group of women leaders at the convention decided, would be to select a test city to determine the need for the program in Michigan.

Then, if a women's job clinic should arouse sufficient interest there, the state economic development commission would be asked to appoint a permanent women's advisory council.

The function of this council, said Miss Jane Todd, deputy commissioner of the New York State Department of Commerce, would be to:

1. Provide a business consultant service "to handle questions on every phase of every conceivable type of business."
2. Provide business consultations in personal interviews with "any woman interested in starting or expanding a business of her own."
3. Provide group counselling—where top-notch experts give practical, step-by-step advice on how to turn crafts into cash."
4. Help develop outlets for women's products.

Business In Home

The business clinics, she said, usually are broken down into three sessions. One tells "how to pick a money-maker," another explains "how to market a home product," and the third emphasizes shops and service businesses.

All this, the New Yorker explained, is part of a "growing trend" for women "to start part or full-time businesses from their homes." She noted that "more than a quarter of the people who work for a living in this country are women."

LURE BOOK FOR
1949 OFF PRESSSchoolcraft County Gets Prominent Mention

The Lure Book, portraying the advantages of Upper Michigan to the vacationist and home seeker is presenting its 1949 edition this week.

Schoolcraft county, the last on the list alphabetically, is the last of the counties to be enumerated, but perusal of the advantages listed in the three page writeup indicates that it is far from the least among the counties in the area.

The article featuring the county deals with its historical background, the picturesque reminders of the past still remaining, the beauty of the area, the abundance of wildflowers, deer, bear, wild geese and other objects of wonder for the summer guest.

Concerning Manistique the article states, in part: "The focal point of this interesting region is Manistique, a modern city of 6,000 population, with good hotels, restaurants, modern stores, numerous industries, excellent educational opportunities and nine churches. It is located on Lake Michigan and its climate is unique—never unduly hot in the summer nor cold for protracted periods in the winter. It is serviced by the mainline of the Soo Line Railway, by the Greyhound bus line, with direct connections to Detroit, Chicago and the Twin Cities, and by the Ann Arbor car ferry which plies its way daily to Frankfort winter and summer. An airport provides excellent facilities for all planes and has been pronounced one of the best in Upper Michigan by the state

IN MEMORIAM

To the beautiful memory of our dearly beloved mother and grandmother, Mrs. Mary Huff, who passed away 7 years ago today, May 12, 1942:

We seem to see in the soft dim light

A face we loved the best,

And think of her when the sun's last ray

Goes down in the far off west;

We miss you no less as the time passes on

Than we did on the day of your going.

For absence can never close the door of our hearts

And the lamp of our love is still glowing.

Your heart was the truest in all the wide world;

Your love the best to recall;

For no one on earth could take your place,

You are still the dearest of all.

Sadly missed by her

Church To Observe Resettlement Sunday

May 15 will be observed as Resettlement Sunday and Lutheran World Action Sunday at the First Lutheran church. It was announced today by the Rev. Clifford Peterson, pastor of the church, which is one of more than 10,000 local congregations in the U. S. and Canada affiliated with the eight church bodies participating in the National Lutheran Council.

The dual observance has been scheduled, according to Pastor Peterson, to give special recognition to the resettlement of displaced persons, the largest single project to be supported by contributions to the current Lutheran World Action appeal for $4,000,000. Pastors are being asked to devote their sermons to the resettlement program, and church members will be urged to help find job and housing assurances and prepare to receive and welcome displaced persons into the church.

Of the four million sought this year for church relief and reconstruction in Europe and Asia, it was reported by Pastor Peterson, $1,135,000 has been allocated for service to displaced persons and refugees. A similar amount has been set aside for this work from the $4,000,000 raised in 1948. The DP's are being resettled, not only in the U. S., but also in Canada, South America and Australia.

Stag Party, Blind Bogey Tourney Opens Season at Local Golf Club Saturday

With their sporty nine-hole course in the finest condition in years, many guests of the Escanaba Golf and Country Club will open the 1949 season with a stag party, blind bogey tournament, and dinner Saturday afternoon and evening.

Informal play during the afternoon will consist of competitive play for blind bogey prizes and a pitching contest at the seventh hole. Door prizes, consisting of golf balls, also will be awarded.

In the pitching contest, Professional Dick Knop explained, each contestant will play through No. 7 but will hit two extra balls off No. 7 tee. Three shots in all will be judged in the contest to see who can pitch closest to the hole.

Either nine or 18-hole matches may be played during the afternoon. Dinner will be served at the clubhouse at the close of play.

Joseph Poffenberger, president of the club, is especially eager for as large a turnout as possible for this opening event which provides all members with an opportunity to meet the new professional.

Knop came here April 13 to succeed Don Feller as club professional. He formerly served for three years as professional at the Parris Island, S. C., Country Club.

Twilight play will get underway next Tuesday evening, Knop reports, and a blind bogey event has been planned for the start of women's play next Wednesday. That will be official opening day for women members of the club.

Nats Jolt Tiges For 9th In Row

Detroit, May 12 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers got their first look of the season at the Washington Senators yesterday and found that their visitors' winning streak was no fluke.

The Washington club came up with some nice pitching and a 14-hit attack to wallopp the Tigers 11-1 in the opener of their two-game series and run its streak to nine straight.

Detroit sent Virgil Trucks (4-1), fireballing right hander, against the Senators today. Walt Masterston (2-0) worked for the Senators.

Perkins League 9 To Play Exhibition With Rapid River

Perkins, May 12.—The Perkins Legion team of the Bay de Noc league will open its season with a non-league booster game against Rapid River here Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:30. Many new Perkins players will see action for the first time.

All fans in the area are asked to turn out for the booster attraction to get a line on what to expect from the teams this season.

Some oldtime stars will be in the lineup. They will serve until some of the youngsters are out of school.

One reason for the booster game of course, is the little matter of funds with which to defray expenses of the long season.

The official Bay de Noc season will get underway Sunday, May 22.

SOFTBALL

Liberty Loans will play a practice game with the Merchants at Dock diamond at 6:30 this evening.

The Press Oldtimers will play a practice game with Flat Rock at Royce Park, Friday evening.

135 MILES AN HOUR
Indianapolis, May 12 (AP)—It will take an average qualifying speed of 135 miles an hour to win the pole position in the 500-mile auto race May 30. That's the opinion of Lou Welch, who owns the two fastest competitive cars ever built in America. His 550-horsepower novis specials have been out-lasted and out-lucked but never outrun.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

Cuff notes: Escanaba baseball fans will see the Eskymos in action against Ishpeming this afternoon. St. Joe in action against Rapid River here at 2 Saturday afternoon and then compare notes to pick their favorites when Escanaba and St. Joe clash here Monday afternoon. . . . These games should draw fair-sized crowds. . . . And if Ray Menard, Trojan "control" pitcher, tangles with the Eskymo ace, Gil Prevost, Monday, it will be a first-rate attraction.

Coach Steve Baltic's Eskymo trackmen are priming for a rugged assignment against the Menominee Maroons in a dual meet in Menominee this Saturday. . . . The Eskymos defeated Marquette and Negaunee in a triangular affair in Marquette last week, but slightly more work is cut out for them this week.

The Maroons defeated Iron Mountain, 86-22, and this past Tuesday they nipped Green Bay East, 59-54. . . . In the latter triumph, Bill Pontow vaulted 11 feet, put the shot 45 feet eight inches. Harold Larson jumped 19 feet eight and one-half inches and Billy Wells nipped Pontow by a hair in winning the century dash in 10.3, which is one-tenth of a second under the U. P. Class record set by Ironwood's Olson in 1946.

When Marquette university holds an intrasquad exhibition game tomorrow to climax spring football training, Frank Kopenski, Iron River's all-star in 1947, will be one of an all-fresh backfield with the Blues and Joe Oreshoski, Menominee, will start at right end for Golds.

Note to Escanaba tournament kglers: The prize list is a mile long but we'll try to squeeze it in tomorrow or Saturday. . . . In the meantime, if your team score ranged between 2845 and 3082, doubles between 1164 and 1328, singles between 597 and 685 or if your name is Lawrence Beauchamp or Clarence Moyle with 1911 and 1875, respectively, in all events, there's a check waiting for you at the Arcade. . . . And Harry Gafner says don't spare the horses. . . .

Fur Storage FACTS

you should know about Furs!

PROPER STORAGE AND MOTH PROTECTION:
Proper cleaning and storage lengthens the life of furs. Reliable storage gives complete protection against damage from moths. Moths are one of the greatest enemies of furs. They are a constant danger, particularly when your furs are not in use. Reliable storage protects your furs against irreparable damage from drying, summer heat which dries out the natural oils in the skins, causing them to split, crack and peel. There is nothing that can be done for skins in this condition. Reliable storage gives you absolute protection against loss from fire and from theft. WARNING: Store your furs where you see the Fur Institute of America seal of approval. It is your guarantee that the vaults have been inspected and pass all requirements for the proper storage of fur and fur-trimmed garments.

KEEP FURS CLEAN: All furs should be cleaned at least once every year. Dirt, dust and grime not only ruin the beauty of the fur but invite moths which can completely destroy your furs. Avoid unknown or irresponsible stores and cleaners. They may ruin your furs, in which event you will have no satisfactory recourse. Furs should be cleaned only by an approved furrier's method.
